Description

Sticky Climber is a passionate natural born climber. He has 18 sticky fingers in his favor and a long tongue for an occasional fly protein snack. He climbs for both food and fun. Completely geared-up for the occasion, today Sticky has joined a search group for archaeological treasures in the rocky cliffs of the Andes. Only one left in the gallery, so if you would like to add this cute little frog to your collection, you better act now. After this one is gone, there will be A/P only at a higher price.
