Description

Anatole Krasnyansky (b. 1930, Ukraine, USSR/American) - "Lady's Portrait" (1998) is a serigraph in color on wove paper with a plate signature in the lower left. This is one of the twisting, turning, swirling, multi-colored and multi-textured images that Krasnyansky created following his experience working as a set designer for the rock band, "Kiss" that gave rise to this distinct, new and surreal style. The work of art measures 7.75 x 6 inches unframed. A Certificate of Authenticity from Park West Gallery is included. Shipping is free in the USA. For additional information about Anatole Krasnyansky, please see: <https://www.parkwestgallery.com/artist/anatole-krasnyansky> Ukrainian artist Anatole Krasnyansky pioneered new techniques in watercolor by experimenting with texture. His artistic output centers on dualities: old and new, history and imagination, structure and surrealism. Through separate and distinct approaches to his art, Krasnyansky depicts expressive architecture and
