Description

Karel Appel (1921-2006, Dutch.) "Happy Couple" (aka "Black and Blue Eye") is a 1978 Limited Edition Lithograph in the artist's abstract composition style. Pencil signed and numbered 152/160. It measures 21.5" x 29.5" framed, and ships free in the USA. Appel was an influential Dutch painter, print-maker, sculptor and ceramist known for his figurative abstract paintings employing a uniquely expressive use of color, form, and line. Appel's work bears the influence of the Art Brut movement, aligning with its bold gestural style and rejection of the cultural and artistic values found in mainstream art of the post-World War II era. During his career Appel's paintings became more thickly painted and employed swirling forms with grotesque imagery of animals, monsters and the human figure. Appel also created assemblages and sculptures where he experimented with materials. He also painted large-scale murals during his career. His limited edition silkscreen and lithographic prints are internat
