Description

Surrounded by the children of the world, an angel holds the energy of our planet for love and healing. I painted this as a prayer. A friend called distraught over a nurse he knew who passed away from the coronavirus. I knew I had to do something to imprint the world with a prayer. The Angel is holding the Earth and Universe within her heart. She has light gentle energy that is like a balm for our hearts. The various faces on the sides represent the people on the planet. Prayers for every being touched by this experience. Peace??
